The Above and Beyond the Call (ABC) for October, the Gloucester County Community Organizations Active in Disasters (COAD), includes members of the Heart of South Jersey, The People for People Foundation, and Senior Corp. These organizations are taking a lead position in the development of the COAD. The mission of COADs throughout the state is to bring together volunteers and service and business organizations that are willing to volunteer their time and talents to become active in disaster assistance and to foster cooperation and coordination in preparedness, response and recovery.
